

You have hidden these things from the wise and you have revealed them to the childlike

Homily, 15th July 2020

Mat 11,25-27

father G. Paparone o.p.

At that time Jesus said in reply, «I give praise to you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for although you have hidden these things from the wise and the learned you have revealed them to the childlike. Yes, Father, such has been your gracious will. All things have been handed over to me by my Father. No one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son wishes to reveal him.»

We do wish to thank our Lord for his Word, particularly because He is the one who reveals the Father to us, and reveals us the truth of Life, the truth of God and the truth about ourselves.

We are blind people walking in an unknown land.
We have discovered many things, but the mystery of life is something that surpasses our capabilities.
We look like little straw twigs wandering in the sea: even if we struggle and sweat, there is so much we don't know.

But there is something we know which is fundamental to allow us to live a life worth this name:
we have been created by God, we are beloved creatures and we are invited to seek Him.

We shall not despair, we shall not regret for our weaknesses and limits, because it is God who reveals us the truth, it is Him who can reveal to the little ones the great mystery of Life.

Let's strive then, day after day, to be in the number of these beloved childlike.

Bless to you Lord Jesus Christ.
